ANNUAL CONCERT

And Ball of the Opera House Or-chestra Given Last Night.

THE LARGEST AUDIENCE YET.

A Magnificent Programme Rendered in an Artistic Way—A Ball Follows, and the Organization Adds Another to its Credit List—An Unusually Critical Crowd Approves It—Fine Performance of the Stone Church, Elm Grove, Last Evening.

Last night the Opera House orchestra gave its annual grand promenade concert and ball at the Arion hall. The largest audience which has ever gathered at any of this orchestra's entertainments was present, besides which it was one of the most refined and critical assemblages of musical people. Wheeling people have ever seen together. The approval of the orchestra's performance was discriminating, but enthusiastic. It is safe to say that a more attractive programme was never given in a more satisfactory style, and Prof. Spell and his musicians made a decided hit. The numbers were nearly all encores, but owing to the length of the programme no responses were won. In the descriptive fantasia, "A Day with a Circus," Louis Huseman won distinction by the able way in which he acted the part of the ringmaster, and the role of lion was also enacted in a realistic way which brought down the house. "The Musician's Strike," was encores, but having "striking," the musicians declined to return and all was over.

Messrs. Fred Schwetfeger, E. B. Franzheim, Charles Schambra, Robert Haase, George Hook and J. A. Hess acted as floor managers for the very enjoyable ball which followed. Supper was served by Mr. Craus, and was in keeping with the other features of what was really one of the most notable and creditable entertainments ever given in the city.

Entertainment Last Night.

At the Stone church, at Elm Grove, last night, a musical and literary entertainment was given for the benefit of the church. There was an attendance which packed the house, and all enjoyed the programme very much. The chorus rendered several popular choruses, and Mr. Charles Zulauf, of this city, gave two very fine bass solos, which were heartily encores. Miss Sallie Maxwell also sang two solos beautifully. Charles P. Morgan recited, Miss Grace Carter and Miss Nellie Ebeling gave piano solos, Miss Sallie Maxwell gave a violin solo, and Mr. Dan Maxwell and Miss Maxwell played a piano and violin selection. Altogether it was one of the finest entertainments seen for some time.

His Body will be Brought to Wheeling From Seattle, Washington.

Further information of the death of Robert Marlowe at Seattle, Washington, was received by relatives here yesterday. Mr. Marlowe was the son of Elijah Marlowe, of Twenty-second street. He has been in the west many years and was the vice-president of a large mining company. He died very suddenly in a Seattle hotel. His brother-in-law, Mr. D. E. Martin, left yesterday evening for Cleveland, where he will see another brother and arrange for bringing the dead man's body to Wheeling for burial.

Gold in Marshall County.

Yesterday a very fine specimen of gold ore was left at the Intelligencer office. It was found on Mr. John Taylor's farm, about three miles south of Hovey's Rock, in Marshall county. It shows the little specks of the yellow metal beyond doubt. The flecks of yellow might be taken for iron pyrites, but they are not. The ore was sent to a well known chemist, who found gold in the stone. Whether it is present in paying quantities is not yet settled.

WASHINGTON MERCHANTS REMEMBER

The Many Good Qualities of the Late Marcus Baer—Resolutions Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 28.—Intelligence of the death of Mr. Marcus Baer, of the firm of Baer's Sons Grocer Company, of Wheeling, W. Va., having reached our place, a meeting of many of the persons who had business relations with Mr. Baer and his firm met at the store of Mr. T. W. Tucker.

On motion, Geo. W. Driver was elected president and John W. Seaman, secretary.

W. H. Underwood having in a few well chosen words, stated the object of the meeting, on motion a committee was appointed by the chairman to make suitable expression of the feelings of those present.

The committee appointed by the chair, viz: W. H. Underwood, D. T. Sample, S. M. Charlton and T. W. Tucker, then presented the accompanying minute and resolutions which were unanimously adopted.

On motion, it was resolved, That as far as possible the merchants of Washington who have had business relations with our now deceased friend, attend the funeral.

The resolutions follow: We the undersigned, merchants of Washington, Pa., having heard with deep regret of the recent death of Mr. Marcus Baer, and desiring to express to the firm and family of which he was a member our appreciation of his character, at a meeting held at Washington on the 28th day of January, 1896,

Resolved, That Mr. Marcus Baer, having for years been in close business and personal friendship with us, his straightforward and cheerful disposition has made his visits a pleasure to us. The principle, to quote his own words, "A business man cannot afford to be dishonest," has always characterized his dealings with us. We feel his death leaves a place which it will be difficult to fill. We have admired his intelligence, trusted his integrity and now realize that we have lost a friend. We desire the foregoing to be printed in the Wheeling and the Washington papers and the original copy to be presented to his family.

WILLIAMS TYPEWRITER.

OUR MAIN POINT...

Lies in our differences. We are not compelled to, and we cannot draw parallels between the WILLIAMS and other typewriters, because ours is "superior." It does everything a typewriter should do most quietly, and with the utmost simplicity, but does it in the "WILLIAMS" way, and whether it is the best or not every one interested in typewriting can judge for himself. We make distinct claims, rather than comparative ones. The Intelligencer uses and recommends the Williams.
